Art Circle Library: Sadly we're going to be saying goodbye to one of our directors at the end of 2017. Susie Randleman will be leaving the Art Circle Library in Crossville, TN, and will move to Arizona with her husband. Susie will be sorely missed throughout the region, so please join me in wishing her a fond farewell!

Smith County Public Library: It isn't all sad personnel news, though! Please join me in welcoming Amanda Bain as the new director of the Smith County Public Library System in Carthage and Gordonsville! Amanda most recently worked in the Dekalb County Library System under Kathy Hendrixson, so we have no doubt that Smith County is in good hands!

Standards Survey Report and Review: In the near future, Matt and Amanda will set up consultation appointments with the directors throughout the region in order to discuss last summer's Standards Survey before bringing that information to the boards. This will give the directors an opportunity to talk about goals and roadblocks and think about possible action steps before having a broader discussion.
